Androscoggin

Landlord Will'am Young who has for several years kept a popular inn house, of Auburn, retires from the business on the 1st of November. Young makes this change on account of his health.

The store and bakery of William C. Bridge at Merchant Falls was entered Tuesday night and about one hundred dollars worth of goods taken. The thieves gained entrance by sliding back a window and after getting a match struck a shed cut a hole in the door large enough to thrust their hands through and lift the latch of the door on the store side. The goods taken were cigars, fruit, bakers goods and tobacco.

Aroostook

The last bond of indebtedness on the town of Houlton, (with the exception of the Railroad bonds) was paid last week. There is now $7 000 in the town treasury and $7 000 due on taxes unpaid. A vote will be taken to pay a million immediately.

A house, shed and outbuildings, valued at $100, on exhibition at Shepard's hotel, Houlton. The moose was shot by Mr. James Sweet, of Masardis, and weighed 1 100 pound. The antlers are the largest ever seen here. They have ten prongs.

The store, tenements and post office of the old Branch lodge, at Orient, for which the State made an appropriation of $400, has been completed, creditably to the county commissioners. We understand the work was done by Mr. John Kelso, of Lincoln.

Knox

The Washington Fish Company, Simonson & Young, of Boston, who have the big fish ground down here, have closed business for the fall. Their agent, Kinsman Gates, has put into pound 1 200 000 and all accounted in twenty two days. This pound is owned by the same firm that has caused buying about the only sale for lobsters now in Rockland and consequently marketed. If I were who is shipping to-small but says that he is about moved under to there seems to be little use of the combination. Lobsters some cheap, this place and no lobsters is because will be obliged to take up their traps and give up the business.

Lincoln

Mrs. Frank Watts of Patterson committed suicide by hanging, Wednesday forenoon. While the rest of the family were away, the unfortunate woman of 28 years of age, placed a strand of her work past the other end of a door in the chamber, closed the door and stepped from a chair. Physicians were called but too late to afford any help. A husband, three girls and a boy are left to mourn their loss. Mr. Watts purchased the cotton for the rash act.

Somerset

The machine shop which have for some years been the home of the New England Iron Works now known as the southern division of the Bath Iron Works were started up Wednesday morning after being idle for about a month. A small crew of mechanics are at work, and as fast as the forces will be increased, which will be but a few days, that one or more contracts will soon be closed, if not already. Enough can be said about the works, that it requires to be known that a contract has been obtained to build the engines and boilers for a large steamer, the hull of which is to be constructed by the New England Company.

Somerset

There is a change in the Skowhegan Democratic office. They pulled in their shingle recently and now comes out a good political paper. Mr. Kelly retires and Mr. C. H. Hall is announced as editor and F. H. McCrea, local editor.

Waldo

A moose was seen by several persons at North Montville Friday morning. It appeared within a few feet of the residence of W. S. Hall. A hunter who saw the animal estimated it would dress five hundred pounds.

Washington

The Washington correspondent of the Machias Republican says deer are getting plentiful. Parties who went recently at Pleasant a brief report having seen twenty while in driving a distance of little over one mile along the road in that vicinity, and John Ahern reports three in a neighbor's field in full view the greater part of the Sunday but it was too close time.

Mr. O. N. Hinckley, of Lubec, whose farm is about a mile from the village, raised this season, on less than two acres of land, six hundred and eighty seven bushels of picked potatoes. Dressing was Bradley's phosphate, mixed with clippings of herring from the sardine factory which makes the very best dressing for potatoes, he says that can be produced. The quality of the potatoes are said to be equal to the quantity.

Penobscot

At the session of the Governor and Council Tuesday, J. H. Marshall of Burlington appeared in behalf of two hundred and thirty-eight petitioners in York county, asking for the appointment of a special liquor constable. After a brief hearing it was decided that the law was not enforced and that such an appointment should be made. Gov. Marble informed Mr. Marshall that when the name of a proper person for the position was presented to him, he would place it on the nomination book. J. W. Small, of Saco, also presented a petition from Saco and Biddeford, asking for a special constable in that vicinity, on which he was given a hearing and the matter laid on the table.

Short Cuts.

A horse thief, arrested at Mexico, Me., boasts that he has cut his way out of seventeen jails.

A Norden, Neb., man has been married after 20 years of courtship conducted through the mails.

Already Manager Anson, of the Chicagos, claims that his team will win the League pennant next year. Age cannot wither nor doublings crush his infinite previously.

The poor and apricot yield at Orange, Cal., this year, is so great that a resident used 600 feet of lumber to prop the limbs of a tree and yielded over 300 lbs. and even then the limbs broke.

There are [illegible] "queer" doctors in Boston, but the queerest of them all is a woman who has a sign out reading: "Dr. Blank, Specialist in Diseases of Women and Children."

No sounder advice was ever given than that addressed to a company of theological students lately by Dr. John Hall, of New York. "The way to get out of a small place is to be very efficient in it."

The native inhabitants of Washington at this season of the year eat large quantities of salted herring to counteract the malaria of the Potomac flats. The fish-consumer of the first month is the worst sufferer of the whole.

Drawing room cars from the United States have been placed on the Italian railway between Milan and Santiago. It is found to be very difficult to prevent passengers from smoking in them although smoking cars have been added.

A bachelor's club organized at Benton ville, Ark., not long since is very fine on members unmarried at the end of 1888, excepting those who can give satisfactory evidence that they have proposed and been rejected since receiving the year.

The late Prince Schwarzenberg who landed estates were so enormous as to be called the Prince of the Forests, left a fortune, of $40 000 000 from which a sum of $800 was bequeathed to the poor of Vienna. That was a most charitable request.

In Buffalo, N. Y., the other day a four grain apple of natural size was found but at having been known that he was drunk and in the wife Judge Davis dared that I and the bill chair for who in the law require I could be become an American citizen.

The farmers there are getting tired of sending from a million to Ireland for the taxes, now that the Irish people are only at the rate of 10 per pound, and sit down as poor as ever. Ireland is made up of the rich, and the poor. There is no middle class. Poor Ireland.

An exchange pokes fun at the [illegible] and remarks whether or not, that it has been tampered with. It has been tampered with by the Custom House in England. The paper contains, that it has been on to the [illegible] and after being sealed the package [illegible] out of the ship. It is impossible to break and [illegible] in envelope without traces of such injury.

A sparrow with white wing was seen in London, N. Y. the other afternoon. It had an army of nearly one hundred brown sparrows for several hours. When the crew started the others would alight and when it circled away at first in a straight line they would immediately follow suit, keeping close, however as near as practicable since.

A successful cultivator says that next to the goat which is the most obstinate animal in the world to fill an ash into the cart is the most difficult animal to fill into the power take by interest or pride, in three ways, but the three are dog and they have not a particle of all three. Old Bob here when in the pen of the worst convict would promptly obey orders from a [illegible]

A correspondent says he noticed from a [illegible] in the hotel dining room, and it was with no small degree of astonishment that he saw the gentleman [illegible] his knife into his mouth. He says he was so astonished that he could not go to see the [illegible] that was properly served.

An article is being made of [illegible] to be used at the Paris Exhibition. The [illegible] will be such so that the platforms will be always with the surface of the [illegible] will run of sufficient strength to permit most people to [illegible] and that the [illegible] is made of [illegible] so that [illegible] will be made [illegible] powers will be electric.

Mr. Marshall P. Wilder tells that at a big reception in London he got into conversation in a corner with a quiet, elderly, middle aged gentleman, and Mr. Wilder deplored the lack of manners in [illegible] the crowds of fellow people around him. I would rather talk to a plain person like yourself," he said in a quiet fashion than to the Duke of Teck who I believe is here." And this was the exchanging opinions about England and America. Mr. Wilder found later on that his quiet companion was the Duke of Teck himself.

A bear visited the cage of a Michigan farmer three nights in succession, each time carrying off a shoat. After the third theft the owl tailor mended a large hole in the pen to which the bear on the fourth night. The bear presented long claws, and pounced upon brain the moment he appeared. The bear attempted to hug the enemy, but the latter was too active to allow this, and after taking numerous blows from the bear's big paws as of with a club, tapped the infernal [illegible] with his tusks. Presently the farmer came up with a lantern and [illegible] and chopped brain's head open.

General Goff, the Republican candidate for Governor of West Virginia, is made of heroic stuff. During the battle of [illegible] taken prisoner and shut up in Libby Prison. Soon after one Major Mulligan was [illegible] Rebel was captured and sentenced to be put to death as a spy. The Rebel authorities threatened to have [illegible] by hanging General Goff. The latter heard of it and wrote to President Lincoln: "If Major Armsby is guilty, he should be executed, regardless of [illegible] to me. The life of a single soldier, no matter who he may be, should not stand in the way of administering [illegible]."

None but literary people know how closely grows the attachment between the author and his characters. It is related of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe that when from the pages of the manuscript she read the death of little Eva, the entire family sat bathed in tears, nor could one of them speak a word, but all mournfully separated, going to their room as though they had just attended the funeral of a dear friend. Some friends met Thackeray on the street one day and his countenance bore traces of intense grief. "What is the matter?" they asked. "I just killed Colonel Newcombe," he sobbed, bursting into tears as he hurried away. Charles Dickens had the same experience.

According to the New York World, Miss Jane Reding is making such rapid progress in the acquirement of the English language that she can now say, "I beg your pardon," which she first in sweet voiceys in response to the assaults made upon her native tongue by the reporters who call upon her and who labor under the delusion that they can talk French. Such is the gifted actress' amiability and charm of manner that every employee in the Hotel Vendome, from the haughty head clerk down to the meekest chamber boy, is ready to [illegible] with her. Her household there consists of her mother herself, of her brother and a male servant and a maid servant. When she walks abroad, upon which occasion she is [illegible] richly [illegible] she is always accompanied by her brother, and the two attract the admiring attention even of those unacquainted with their identity. The elder woman is handsome and the younger is beautiful.

The Largest Passenger Locomotive.

A monstrous locomotive is now nearly boiler for the engineer the other in the old style for the fireman. It is the largest passenger locomotive ever built. All the wheels are of equal, with steel tires, and the driving wheel the largest ever manufactured. A Washington man on passing works that a great part of the [illegible] steam is pumped back and serves to heat the water in the tank. Another economy in fuel is the work of a large [illegible] chamber which burns up all the gases [illegible] engine and serves to heat the water passenger cars [illegible]

A GRAND IDEA

Prof. Geo. H. Ballinger, the well known chemist of Texas, investigated the baking powder question and wrote: "I submitted Prof. Horsford's preparation to a chemical examination, and found it composed of pure and non-poisonous materials. The idea of Prof. Horsford was indeed, a grand one, in supplanting the indigestible tartrates, which are the final result of all cream tartar baking powders, by the soluble phosphates, the very nutritive property of bread, and the same produced by nature. It is certainly the best and most healthful bread raising preparation ever offered to the public." oct17 d&w1w

Another Note of Alarm.

The New York Herald goes on Democratic shock in the public mind of editorial letters to the editor

PRIVATE TO THE EDITOR

I am astonished at the strong opposition to Hill everywhere among the Democrats. The anti-Hill men are afraid to express their views openly as they don't want to be read out the Democratic party. It seems to me that Hill is going to be beaten by Miller. Almost every Excise Board is Republican and they threaten to close up the saloon men (all on whose Hill's lies if they work for him.

Brand Cobb Standard

I have tried to put as good a face on the Iowa state election to the countries stated by me as the facts would warrant. But the fact is the Democrats in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio are in a terrible state. Even Dakota is not long well, that has been trending that way. The end is plain to the man of the country who is not prejudiced. What is wanted is the Democratic party is with its present leaders. It is not long well, that has been trending that way. The end is plain to the man of the country who is not prejudiced. What is wanted is the Democratic party is with its present leaders.

Sham Reform Exposed

It is of the most corrupt and scandalous character that has ever been exposed in the history of the Democratic party. The following letter from Mr. Breckinridge, which appeared in the Courier-Journal of this week, is a complete exposure of the corruption and fraud practiced by the Democratic party in the last election. The letter is addressed to the Democratic Committee of Kentucky, and is as follows:

If the sterile history of the Allentown Convention of 1887 and of the Harrisburg committee meeting of 1888 shall ever see the light, we shall learn how the federal officials, who were so busy in both of them operated and why they had been so busy at the preceding primaries, but enough that we can guess at the pressure which produced so remarkable a "transformation" on the floor of the House that twenty-nine Democrats who had been elected as Protectionists, succumbed to it and voted for the Mills bill. A more dangerous assault on legislative independence could scarcely be made than the veto of the Allentown Public Building bill, because the member from the Lehigh District had refused to be "transformed," and the warning to recalcitrants was promulgated by the defiant inconsistency of the reasons alleged in the veto message with the President's action in other similar cases where members were tractable. These methods of "transformation" have brought about a lawlessness without parallel in American politics. When the President takes small there is a slumbering stereotation in every Democratic nose. He negotiates a fishery treaty and every Democratic member of Congress applauds the wisdom of making concessions to Canada. The Senate rejects his treaty and, to obviate what he considers a momentary tactical advantage, he suddenly declares that Canada has been guilty of outrages requiring him to be invented with extraordinary powers of retaliation, when the peace-lovers of yesterday are "transformed" into blusterers to-day. The whole performance would be enjoyable as opera bouffe if it were not so degrading to American manhood and so full of the most dangerous potash for the future.

* * * * *

Mr. Cleveland's defeat is, therefore, a condition precedent to any hope of relief from the spoils system. He has been weighed and found wanting, and our first duty is to make an example of him. When a farmer nails a chicken hawk to his barn door he not only gets rid of the plunderer but he gives a wholesome warning to his fellows.

We commend the above to the careful consideration of the New York Evening Post Harper's Weekly, the Boston Herald and other Mugwump sheets. They doubtless will not find it interesting reading but it is very instructive.

A GENUINE NOVELTY!

I take pleasure in announcing that I have purchased the exclusive right for Bangor and vicinity of Talcott's Patent Photographic Mount.

The depth, richness of tone, and brilliancy added to photographs mounted by this process, and the quality of absolute permanence and durability (the pictures being hermetically sealed to the glass) excels without doubt the most beautiful and durable method of mounting photographs, you discover. Agents will thoroughly canvass the city and show these beautiful pictures and explain our method of introducing them.
